

GAAYIP-YAGILA PRIMARY SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

THE LATEST EVENTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR OUR SCHOOL COMMUNITY

LETTER FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Welcome to Term 2 Week 5.

Yesterday was a cold morning but this didn't stop the enthusiasm of our Year 4 – 6 students who attended athletics yesterday. Students competed in field events in the morning and had nearly completed the track events before the rain arrived, with only a few 100m races to be completed at school in the near future. Thanks to Ryan Harris for organising the event and the staff for facilitating the day.

Next week is Reconciliation Week which is a time for all Australians to learn about our shared histories, cultures, and achievements, and to explore how each of us can contribute to achieving reconciliation in Australia. Further information about the importance of the week can be found later in the newsletter.

Our first school review is underway. Members of the review team conducted classroom observations and spoke with students to review student voice and agency, curriculum content and teaching practice. We discussed the schools performance against the previous Annual Implementation Plans and assessed our self-assessment against the FISO Continua. Prior to the end of the day the panel developed the Terms of Reference focus questions and methodology to ensure the remaining review days are targeted and effective. The Terms of Reference reflect and define specific areas of the school's practice and performance that require more detailed investigation and analysis.

Coming Together To Learn

Moving forward our terms of reference for the panel days are focused on the ways learning and wellbeing is effectively differentiated to meet the needs of all students and the ways teaching and learning is aligned to support the needs of every child. We would like to develop focus groups with parents. We have scheduled the focus groups for Thursday 15th June at 9.00am. If you are interested in being a part of the focus group please complete the following form - <https://signup.com/go/ANwLPfq>.

Our 2022 Annual Report was approved by School Council at our last meeting and this document will be unloaded during this week to our website. This document reflects on key aspects of school operations for the full year.

KIND REGARDS,

CASSY HOGGINS

POKEMON CARDS AT SCHOOL

Pokemon are captivating creatures that have captured the imaginations of children worldwide. We recognise the interest our students have in these cards and how they can support creativity and imagination. To support this, the school holds a Pokemon lunch time club each Tuesday so that like-minded students can, in a safe and supervised environment, enjoy playing with Pokemon cards at school.

One family has been incredibly generous and have donated a huge number of cards so that we can run this club without the need for any students to bring in their own cards. For this reason we kindly request that all Pokemon cards belonging to students are kept at home. We are seeking support from the community to ensure that all students keep their own Pokemon cards at home. When cards are brought from home to school we have found that they can easily distract students from their learning, can cause conflict between students and can be lost leading to distress for the students. There are also other benefits to keeping these cards at home, including allowing siblings to enjoy battles and trading together to strengthen family relationships and encouraging a balanced lifestyle. The school appreciates the support of our families in helping students to understand the best times and places to play with Pokemon cards.

CAMPS, SPORTS AND EXCURSIONS FUND (CSEF)

The Department administers the CSEF to help eligible families with the costs of camps, sporting activities and excursions. Payments for 2023 are $125 per year for eligible primary school students. The payment is made directly to an eligible student's school. Applications are to be received by the school no later than 23 June 2023.

Some common examples of school-organised programs for which a CSEF payment may be used include:

- School camps/trips
- Swimming and other school-organised sporting programs
- Outdoor education programs
- Excursions/incursions.

Eligibility for the CSEF

- Families holding a valid means-tested concession card or temporary foster parents are eligible to apply. A special consideration category also exists. Schools can receive applications from families by 23 June 2023.
- Families can list more than one student in the one application form if they are attending the same school.

Submitting an application

A parent/carer will only be required to submit an application form to the school in the following circumstances:

- The parent/carer is applying for the CSEF payment for the first time – i.e. an application form was not lodged with the school in the previous year, or
- Circumstances have changed – for example, there has been a change in the care arrangement of the student, a change of name or CRN, or a new sibling has started at the school and the parent/carer wishes to apply for the CSEF payment for the new sibling also.

DISTRICT CROSS COUNTRY

A recount from our students of the District Cross Country:

Last Friday, select students from Year 3 to 6 went to District Cross Country with Miss Saddler and Mr Merrick. There were lots of schools and most of our kids saw some of their friends and family from previous schools. While we were there, the track was hard and bumpy it was easier when we did it at school.

Everyone did an excellent job and were also very competitive all though. It was very fun and a good experience, some of our students made it to division and here are there quotes on how they showed Excellence.

Moey said: I'm happy I came first in the whole District on the day.

Christos said: I tried my best and I'm very happy I'm going to the division.

Tomasso said: I enjoyed running and pushing myself to finish in the top 10 in my age group.

Grace said: It was really fun doing cross country for the first time.

VISUAL ARTS NEWS

In Visual Arts, we've been having fun continuing our weaving unit. Foundation to Year 2 students created paper weavings in order to develop their understanding of the patterns involved in weaving, and the Year 3-6s completed paper weavings and Ojo de Dios (God's Eyes), a craft that originated from the Huichol and Tepehuan Americans of western Mexico. Students have also been learning about colour theory and how to use a colour wheel to find complementary, split complementary and analogous colours.

Foundation students are working on animal weavings, using paper looms, warps and wefts. They've been practicing their fine motor skills completing their weavings, as well as their cutting and pasting skills by cutting out their animal templates and gluing them onto the weaving. Students will later decorate their animals, adding details using collage and other materials.

Year 1/2s have been creating paper rugs inspired by the work of Faig Ahmed, using complementary and split complementary colours to create their weavings.

Coming Together To Learn

Year 3/4s have begun the process of creating a circular weaving inspired by Tegan Murdock, spending the past 2 weeks decorating their looms using analogous colours, trialling new materials such as paint sticks and posca pens. Next week they will begin their weaving, using complementary colours.

Year 5/6s have started creating woven wall tapestries, inspired by artist Emma Freeman. Students have learned about the weaving process, how to create and 'dress' their own looms with the warp threads and how to thread a needle. This week the students have begun weaving using either a complementary or analogous colour scheme and are focusing on developing their weaving skills and use of tension in their weave.

Students have been working really hard on their pieces, and we're so excited to see how everything turns out!

SCIENCE NEWS

Our Foundation students have been continuing their learning about the four seasons. Students have been exploring the changes in weather and how it impacts our daily lives. They have also learned about the Wurundjeri weather cycle which describes the weather changes that we experience here in Melbourne.

In Year 1 and 2, students have continued exploring the world of living things and the habitats that keep our wildlife surviving. Students learned about the varying features of marine, jungle, arid, forest and freshwater habitats. We had lots of fun making animals that could survive in each of the habitats. Understanding the complexity of what living things need to survive and why their habitat supports their survival is key to understanding the world around us.

Students in Year 1 and 2 have also begun exploring food chains and what happens when habitats change. We linked this to our dinosaur topic where we discovered how a fossil forms and how fossils have led to many scientific discoveries about the pre-historic ages. They have been developing their comparing and analysing skills with photographs of fossilised plants and a modern-day plant.

Learners in Year 3 and 4 have been applying their skills of classification and knowledge of adaptation to create a brand-new creature! Their imaginative living thing needed to have features like creatures that would inhabit a eucalypt tree – such as feathers, claws, or fur. Students needed to think about how their animal could justifiably survive with the eucalypt tree as its habitat.

Coming Together To Learn

Our students in Year 5 and 6 have been working hard on a research project. They have been learning about extreme environments such as the deep sea and Antarctica. Using a range of questions to guide their research, students have developed information booklets and posters on animals that inhabit extreme environments. They expanded their knowledge of structural, behavioural and physiological adaptations by finding out what features allow that animal to survive in such harsh conditions.

National Reconciliation Week

National Reconciliation Week—held every year from 27 May to 3 June—is a time for all Australians to learn about our shared histories, cultures, and achievements, and to explore how each of us can contribute to achieving reconciliation in Australia.

What's the significance of 27 May and 3 June?

27 May marks the anniversary of the 1967 referendum when Australians voted to remove clauses in the Australian Constitution that discriminated against Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

3 June marks the historic 1992 Mabo decision in which the High Court of Australia recognised native title—the recognition that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples' rights over their lands did survive British colonisation.

The day before National Reconciliation Week, 26 May, is National Sorry Day, which was first held in Sydney in 1998 and is now commemorated nationally to remember and honour the Stolen Generations.

What is reconciliation in relation to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples?

At its heart, reconciliation is about strengthening relationships between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and non-Indigenous peoples, for the benefit of all Australians.

For Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, Australia's colonial history is characterised by devastating land dispossession, violence, and racism. Over the last half-century, however, many significant steps towards reconciliation have been taken.

Reconciliation is an ongoing journey that reminds us that while generations of Australians have fought hard for meaningful change, future gains are likely to take just as much, if not more, effort.

Why is National Reconciliation Week important?

National Reconciliation Week provides a focus for working towards our goal of a just equitable and reconciled Australia

National Reconciliation Week is an ideal time for organisations, schools, universities, community groups and workplaces to advance understanding of reconciliation within their own places and their own lives. National Reconciliation Week provides a focus for working towards our goal of a just equitable and reconciled Australia

It began as a Week of Prayer for Reconciliation in 1993, supported by Australia's major religious groups. Three years later it evolved into National Reconciliation Week under the guidance of the Council for Aboriginal Reconciliation (now Reconciliation Australia).

Who organises National Reconciliation Week?

National Reconciliation Week is organised by Reconciliation Australia; an independent, not-for-profit organisation established in 2000. It is the national organisation responsible for building and promoting reconciliation between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and other Australians.

Reconciliation Australia creates a theme for National Reconciliation Week each year.

Reconciliation Australia also works with state reconciliation organisations in New South Wales, Queensland, Victoria, Western Australia, South Australia and the ACT to organise local events and activities for National Reconciliation Week.

Thousands of workplaces, schools, early learning services, universities, councils, and more organise their own private or public activities for National Reconciliation Week.

How can I or my group or organisation get involved?

Visit the Reconciliation Australia website for more information and to discover what activities and events are taking place in your local area during National Reconciliation Week

On a personal level, you can think about what you can do locally and take the time to learn about the rich Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures that exists in Australia.

And, importantly, find the time to talk with your family and friends about why it's important for all Australians to build respectful relationships with each other, and especially with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

What can I do for the rest of year?

While National Reconciliation Week is an excellent time to think about these issues, you can still take action through the year to work towards reconciliation.

Visit our websites: www.reconciliation.org.au or nrw.reconciliation.org.au or follow us on social media for more information
